Shorthorns have outgained all breeds in the Front Royal, Virginia, Performance Tests for eight years in a row. Raise Shorthorns for profit.

Above we see Wernacres Chief Adonis by Aldie Chief Adonis with two of the good females in the Robert Raisbeck herd. This bull's progeny will be a feature of this sale. One son and four daughters sell.

Southwestern Wisconsin Shorthorns have top "batting averages" in interbreed shows and in strong interstate sales. International winners, both carcass and on-hoof winnings, have been shown by breeders consigning to this sale.

13 Bulls—36 Females

The 49 head consigned to this, the fourth annual sale, make up the strongest Southwestern Wisconsin offering to date.

The bulls are the herd-heading kind . . . rugged, good headed, smooth and thick . . . bred to do well in either a registered or commercial herd.

The females contain some show heifers and the largest group of cows with calves that have sold in any of these annual events. Included is the entire cow herd of Lambert Rohowetz, Dodgeville, who has been breeding Shorthorns for approximately 40 years.

MERCURY'S CONTROL

This great-bodied son of Sni-A-Bar Mercury was used liberally in the Neal James Estate Herd. He and his progeny have played an important role in Shorthorn improvement over a wide area. Lot 1 is out of a dam of this great bull and is by Westmere Contribution, another of Southwest Wisconsin's most illustrious modern-day sires. The Mercury-Contribution cross has been one of the breed's most successful.

The bull on the cover of this catalog is Lot 1, Baronet's Control. This is an un-retouched, amateur photo. Quite a bull, isn't he?

Hi-View Royal Augusta

Hi-View Augusta

Hi-View Belle—Here is a heifer that could be a winner in next year's shows. She has had no special fitting. Out of a half sister to the reserve supreme champion bull over all breeds at the 1959 Mid-Winter Futurity.

Some of the highly productive Lambert Rohowetz cows that sell in this sale.

"Every cow in our herd is being sold in this sale. Many have calves at foot or are close to calving. In recent years, as we have reduced our herd numbers, we have kept only our best and most dependable producers. Consequently, you have an opportunity to buy the cream of our herd developed over the past 40 years through critical culling and continued use of the best herd bulls we could find. Many will wonder why we are selling no yearlings or two year olds. In an effort to keep our herd at a number that we could easily manage the last few years we have sold off our calves for junior projects, to other breeders and as finished steers. Our neighboring Shorthorn breeders will testify as to our herd's regular productivity and freedom from disease."

—Lambert Rohowetz.

The Next 24 females in this catalog make up
the Gam Gen Herd

A few of the husky, deep-bodied, growthy calves by Baronet's Control, the Lot 1 Bull.

THE JESSAMINES . . .

This family has been in our herd since 1929 when we purchased Jessamine 20th from C. M. Herr & Sons, Lodi, Wis.

Jessamine 20th was by Bapton's Knight and traces back to Whitehall Sultan. The Jessamines are great milkers, have been regular producers . . . they have regularly produced calves every 10 months for us. The next 13 females are members of this family.

A study of the top 20 steers in the lightweight class in the Hoosier Beef Show, Indianapolis, Ind., shows that Shorthorns produce carcasses with more pounds of lean meat of higher value than either blacks or whitefaces. The Shorthorn value per hundredweight was figured at $30.68 as compared to $29.93 for blacks and $29.91 for whitefaces.

Why Shorthorns?

There is a reason why more and more profit-minded farmers, junior exhibitors and commercial men are turning to Shorthorn production. Shorthorns give you the PLUS FEATURES of beef production . . . more pounds at weaning, greater weight-for-age, gentle dispositions, less health troubles and more efficient gains. Besides this they produce prime carcasses as proven by Mid-Winter Futurity, Iowa State Fair and International carcass contests. There is no breed that can beat Shorthorns when it comes to making profits. The Shorthorn industry is a growing industry with a great future. Why not attend this sale and make your initial purchases? You won't be sorry.
